OPINION AND ORDER OF THE UPPER MERION TOWNSHIP ZONING HEARING BOARD

The Applicant, Yude Pan, (hereinafter referred to as the “Applicant”), filed an application requesting a variance to Section 165-37C.(2) in order to construct an addition that will encroach 10 ft. into the required side yard setback. The application was properly advertised, and a public hearing was held before the Upper Merion Township Zoning Hearing Board on October 21, 2009 at the Upper Merion Township Building. All members of the Zoning Hearing Board were present as well as the Solicitor, Zoning Officer, and Court Reporter.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. The Applicant is Yude Pan, 235 Stocker Avenue, King of Prussia, PA 19406.
2. The Applicant is the legal owner of the subject property.
3. The property is located at 235 Stocker Avenue, King of Prussia, PA 19406.
4. The Applicant was not represented by an attorney.
5. The property is zoned “R2 ” Residential.
6. The Applicant currently has a one-story residence with a two-car garage.

7. The Applicant is proposing the addition protruding into the side yard setback because he wants to build a study and breakfast area next to the kitchen.
8. After the addition is complete, it will still be under the permitted maximum building coverage.
9. The building materials proposed for the exterior will match the existing structure.
10. The Applicant enclosed a plan with the application showing an addition to the side of the existing structure and also an addition to the back of the existing structure. The addition to the back does not require any zoning relief.
11. The Applicant is proposing a 20 ft. side yard setback, whereas the code requires a minimum side yard setback of 30 ft.
12. The location of the side addition is a logical extension because on the other side there is an existing garage and driveway.
13. The Applicant spoke to the neighbors most affected by the project and they do not object to the project.
14. There were no residents who testified in favor of the project.
15. There were no residents who testified against the project.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The Applicant, Yude Pan, (hereinafter referred to as the “Applicant”), filed an application requesting a variance to Section 165-37C.(2) in order to construct an addition that will encroach 10 ft. into the required side yard setback.

As a preliminary matter, the applicable standards for determining whether to grant a dimensional variance differ from those of a use variance. The standard as outlined by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court is that the Applicant must show that unnecessary hardship will result if a variance is denied and that the proposed use will not be contrary to public interest. Hertzberg v. Zoning Bd. of Pittsburgh, 554 Pa. 249, 721 A.2d 43 (1998); citing, Allegheny West Civic Council, Inc. v. Zoning Bd. of Adjustment of the City of Pittsburgh, 547 Pa. 163, 167, 689 A.2d 225, 227 (1997).

In Hertzberg, the Supreme Court held that the Zoning Hearing Board must, at the beginning of its analysis of an appeal from the terms of a Zoning Ordinance, determine whether the requested relief is for a use variance or a dimensional variance. Id. If the Board determines that the relief is for a use variance, then the Board should use the traditional five-part test, which is set forth in both the Municipalities Planning Code and case law. If the requested relief is for a dimensional variance, then the standard to be applied will be different. Id. While the Court in Hertzberg did not specifically identify a single standard for a dimensional variance, it noted that the requirements for a dimensional variance were something less than that of a use variance. Id.

In its opinion, the Court went on to opine that some of the factors that a Zoning Hearing Board should look at to determine whether to grant a dimensional variance should include, where applicable:

- (1) The economic detriment to Applicant if the variance was denied;
- (2) The financial hardship created by any work necessary to bring the building into strict compliance with the zoning requirements; and,
- (3) The characteristics of the surrounding neighborhood. Id.

While these factors are not exhaustive, the Court in Hertzberg and subsequent cases have referred to them specifically as findings a Zoning Hearing Board should make in its determination of whether to grant or deny a dimensional variance.

Although the language of Hertzberg is expansive, the current trend is to apply the relaxed standard for dimensional variances only to the consideration of whether unnecessary hardship results from unique physical characteristics or conditions of the land. The Friendship Preservation Group, Inc. v. Zoning Hearing Board of Adjustment of the City of Pittsburgh, 808 A.2d 327 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2002); Cardamone v. Whitpain Township Zoning Hearing Board, 771 A.2d 103 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2001).

The reasons for granting a variance must be substantial, serious and compelling. POA Company v. Findlay Township Zoning Hearing Board, 551 Pa. 689, 713 A.2d 70 (1998); Evans v. Zoning Hearing Board of the Borough of Spring City, 732 A.2d 686 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1999); Sotereanos, Inc. v. Zoning Board of Adjustment of the City of Pittsburgh, 711 A.2d 549 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1998). Moreover, variances to zoning codes should be granted sparingly and only under exceptional circumstances; a variance should not be granted simply because such a grant would permit the owner to obtain greater profit from or use of the property. Commonwealth v. Zoning Hearing Board of Susquehanna, 677 A.2d 853 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1996).

In order to grant a variance, the Board must make the findings set forth in § 910.2 of the Municipalities Planning Code, 53 P.S. § 10910.2, where relevant. The law established by the Pennsylvania courts further establishes these standards, stated in full herein. See, Alpine Inc. v. Abington Township Zoning Hearing Board, 654 A.2d 186 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1995); Appeal of Lester M. Prang, Inc., 169 Pa. Cmwlth. 626, 647 A.2d 279 (1994). The findings that the Board must make, where relevant, in granting a variance as set forth in the Municipalities Planning Code are as follows:

1. That there are unique physical circumstances or conditions, including irregularity, narrowness, or shallowness of lot size or shape, or exceptional topographical or other physical conditions peculiar to the particular property and that the unnecessary hardship is due to such conditions and not the circumstances or conditions generally created by the provisions of the zoning ordinance in the neighborhood or district in which the property is located.

2. That because of such physical circumstances or conditions, there is no possibility that the property can be developed in strict conformity with the provisions of the zoning ordinance and that the authorization of a variance is therefore necessary to enable the reasonable use of the property.
3. That such unnecessary hardship has not been created by the Applicant.
4. That the variance, if authorized, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood or district in which the property is located, nor substantially or permanently impair the appropriate use or development of adjacent property, nor be detrimental to the public welfare.
5. That the variance, if authorized, will represent the minimum variance that will afford relief and will represent the least modification possible of the regulation in issue.

The Applicant is proposing two (2) additions to an existing single family dwelling. The first addition is to the rear of the property which does not require any zoning relief. The other addition is to the side of the property and will be used for a new study and breakfast area next to the kitchen. The location of the addition was limited by the fact that the other side of the house has an existing driveway and garage, therefore, it would not be a logical place for the addition. The addition is further logical because it is next to the kitchen. The addition will be 20 ft. from the side property line, whereas the code has a minimum side yard setback requirement of 30 ft. The Applicant's proposed encroachment requires a dimensional variance, therefore, the standards of the Hertzberg case are applicable to the case at bar. Through the use of testimony and exhibits, the Applicant sufficiently satisfied the standards of the Hertzberg case, therefore, the variance should be granted.

ORDER OF THE UPPER MERION TOWNSHIP

ZONING HEARING BOARD

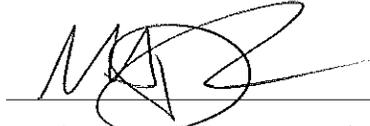

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AND DECREED that the Board finds that the Applicant presented sufficient testimony to grant a variance to Section 165-37C.(2) in order to construct an addition that will encroach 10 ft. into the required side yard setback. This variance is conditioned upon the Applicant's compliance with the testimony of the Applicant at the public hearing on October 21, 2009.
